Pathways into Education

Tom Clark
Your Future In Ltd.

Synopsis

Tom Clark will present a pioneering educational programme and the partnerships necessary for success.

Tom Clark is a former teacher with a passion for empowering young people to equip themselves with the tools and skills needed for a successful career. He believes that the most effective way to address a talent shortage within an Industry is through early intervention in education. Since 2012 Tom has worked to bring together Education Authorities, Government and Employers to develop an education programme that will not only be the 1st of its kind in Scotland but also the most complete and up to date resource available to Education, Industry and the wider community.
